

Maine State Stewardship Coordinating Committee & Project Canopy
Leadership Team Joint Meeting Survey

December 4, 2014

Pine Tree Camp, Rome, Maine

(8 paper responses collected at meeting)+1 mailed in later

What topics are the most important topics to address in the next five years (check all that apply):

- Timber harvesting 2
- Generational transfer of woodlots 5
- Management of urban trees 3
- Town-owned woodlands 2
- Invasive plants and insects 7
- Wood markets 6
- Working-forest conservation easements 4
- Clean drinking water 5
- Wildlife habitat 6
- Woods based recreation 1
- Aesthetic or visual concerns about active timber management 2
- Other: Educational awareness/constant inundation of messages; landscape context forest fragmentation

What format or medium is the best way to reach Maine woodland owners:

- Printed information sheets, brochures, booklets 6
- On-line, web resources 8
- Mobile apps 3
- DVDs 1
- Broadcast radio, local cable access TV 4
- Live meetings 9
- Other: word of mouth—local champions, peer networks

What format or medium is the best way to reach Maine's municipal woodland managers :

- Printed information sheets, brochures, booklets 6
- On-line, web resources 6
- Mobile apps 3
- DVDs 2
- Broadcast radio, local cable access TV 2
- Live meetings 8
- Other: word of mouth; cold calls