

Microorganisms are like really small bugs that we can't see without a microscope. They can be everywhere!

