Greetings,

I am writing in opposition to the Nordic Aquafarms development, adding my voice to others who are concerned about the demands the indoor fish farm will place on the environment. As a research ecologist with a PhD in forest science, it is clear to me that we must address the climate crisis by supporting the health of our ecosystems at local levels. Drawing down the aquifer, polluting the bay with effluent, and constructing a facility with a large carbon footprint are not compatible with the goal of passing along a healthy ecosystem to younger generations.

Sincerely,

Sandra L. Haire
